居尤者

The Kingdom of Israel

sought a new king.

They searched for the Dragon Warrior,

the one who would slay the dragon

shatter nations

and bring his glory unto the earth

The Lord God — their Master

Master Oogway

watched from the mountain.

He saw Him.

Yehoshua.

He came simple.

He came meek.

but the Pharisees

— the Furious Five —

they despised Him.

They mocked His stillness.

They scorned His gentleness.

But in His peace was a strength

no warrior had ever known.

The Way of Yehoshua

was nothing the world desired.

It was The Way of the Lamb.

The Furious Five

were bound in their doctrines —

too many rules,

too much pride,

too much armor for their own hearts.

But the Law was never given to be mastered.

It was given to reveal the Master’s heart.

And when that truth struck them,

they raged.

“What madness is this?” they cried.

“We want power!

We want dominion!

We want the throne!”

But only the true Dragon Warrior

Founder of Creation itself

was worthy of dominion.

Only He could defeat the Dragon

that lived in the hearts of men.

And when the battle was done,

He vanished —

leaving behind not a temple,

but a trail of light,

and a whisper:

“Unless you become like little children,

you will never enter the Kingdom of Heaven.”

This is the Way of the Lamb

This is the way of

The Dragon Warrior
